Courage

Fizzah Abid Warris

The Haunted Castle

Two friends, Mohsin and Ejaz went to a forest. There they saw an old castle. Mohsin said with a sigh, "I wish we could play in that huge castle."

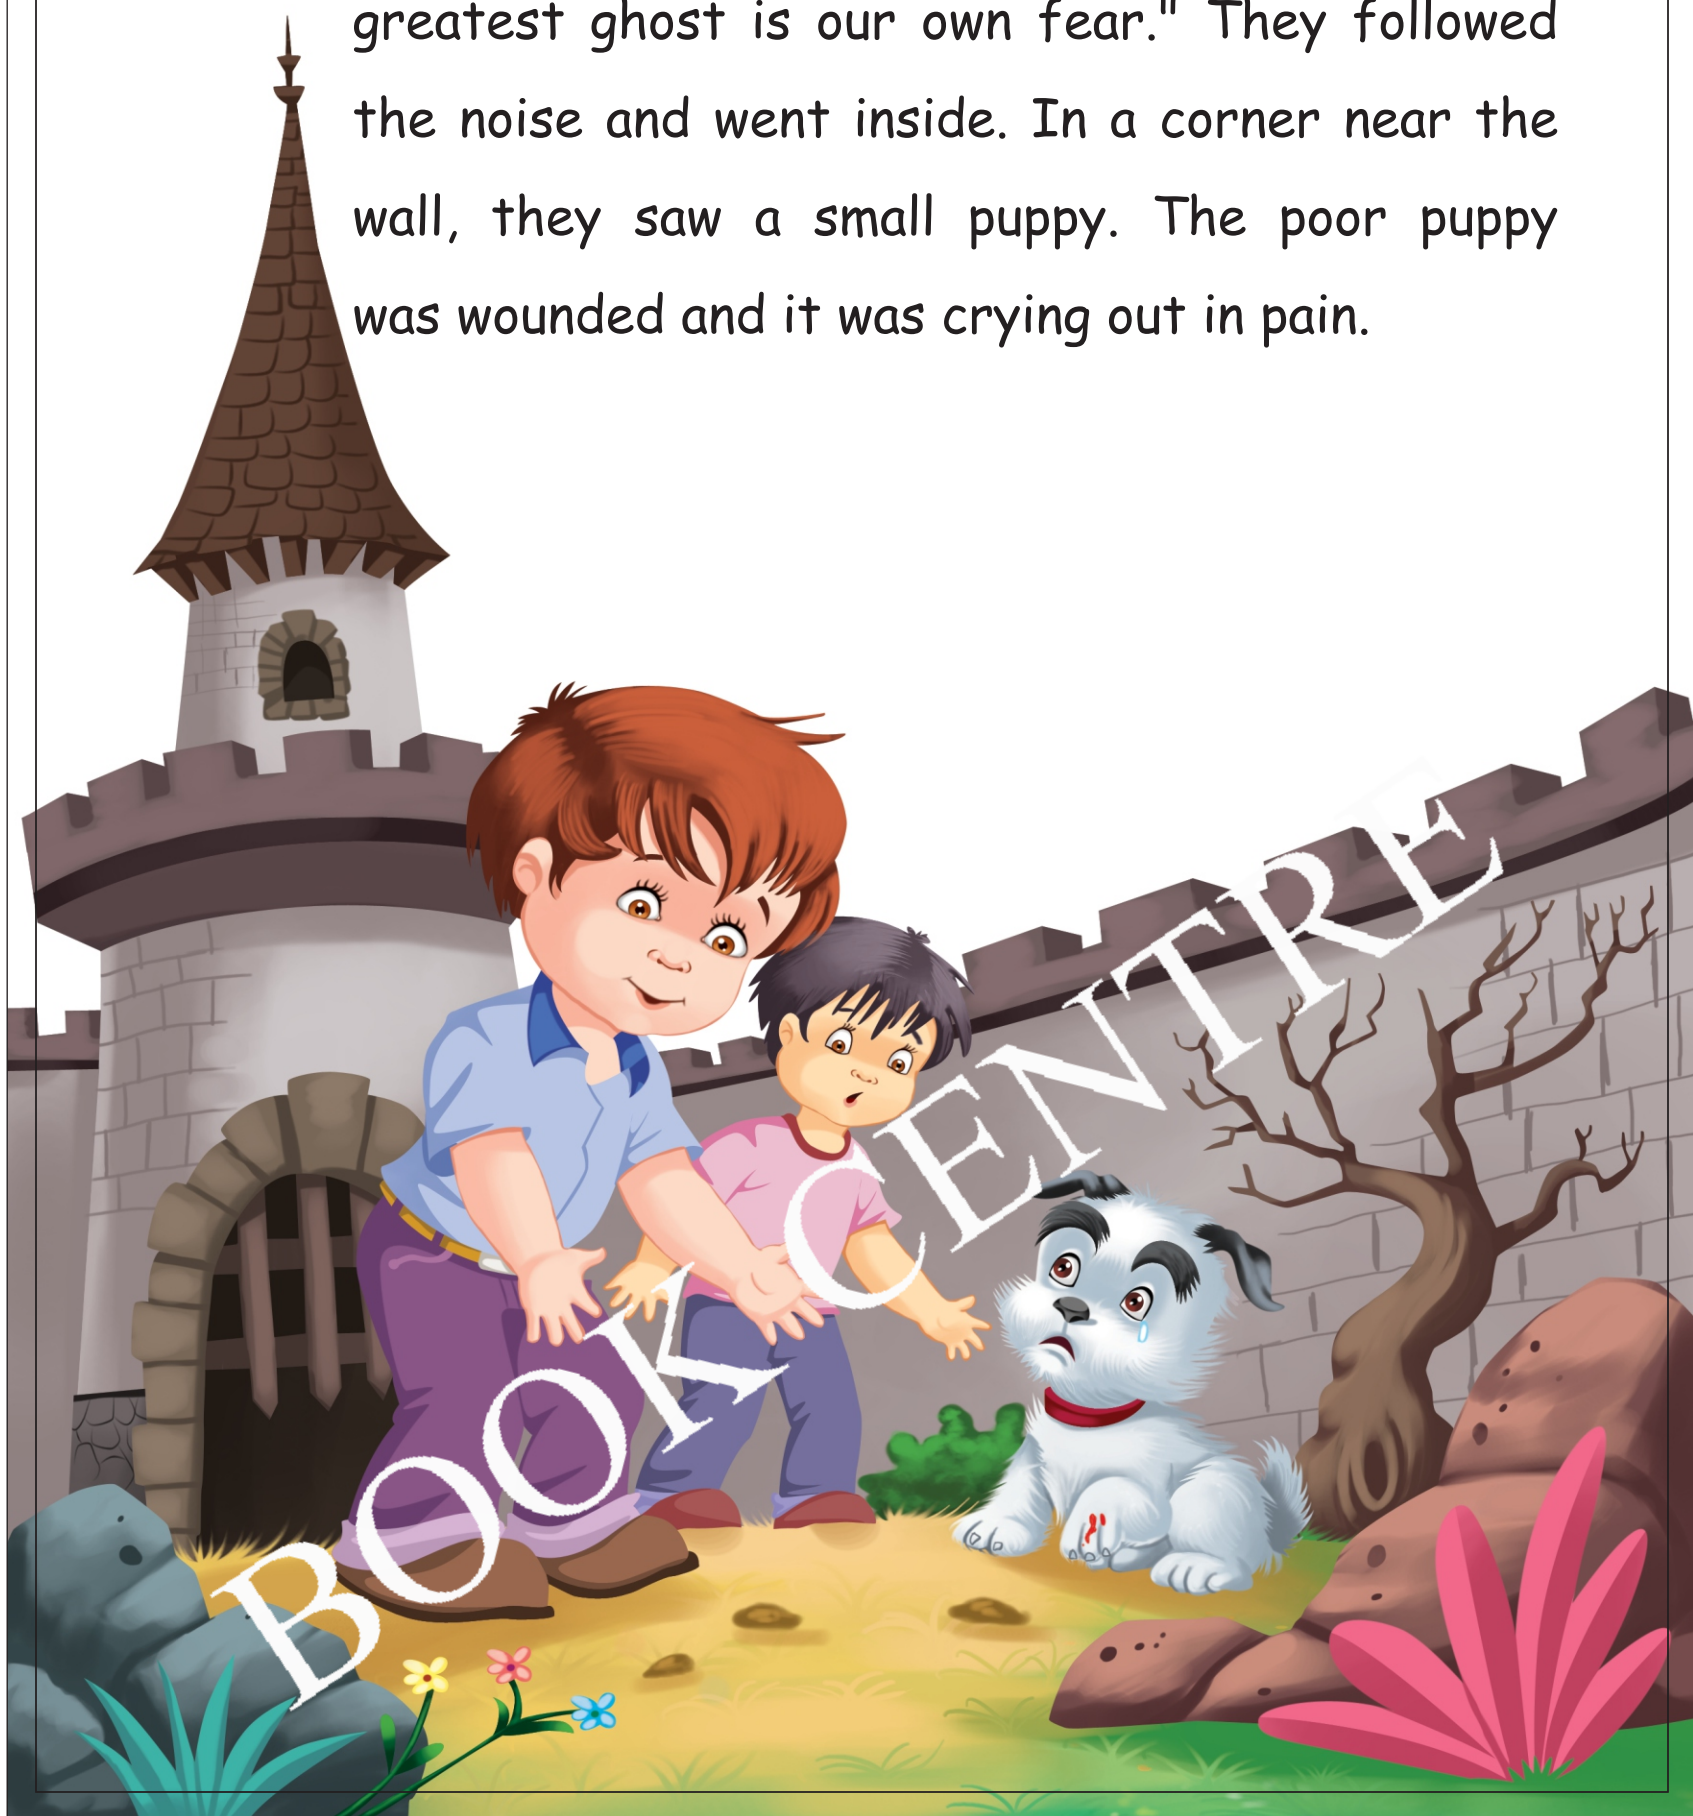

Ejaz replied, "Don't you know that castle is haunted?" Mohsin said, " No way! There are no such things as ghosts. I am going inside." Saying this, Mohsin ran towards the castle. Ejaz also followed him but felt fear. On reaching the door, Ejaz said, "Mohsin, I can't go inside. It is so dark." Suddenly they heard a weird noise. Someone was crying out in pain. Ejaz cried, "G...h...o...s...t..."

Ejaz wanted to run away from there but Mohsin held his hand. He said, "Let us check. The greatest ghost is our own fear." They followed the noise and went inside. In a corner near the wall, they saw a small puppy. The poor puppy was wounded and it was crying out in pain.

Mohsin picked it up and said, "See, this is our little ghost. Come on little puppy, let us get you back on your feet and then all of us will play together." After that day, they made the castle their secret place to play.

Moral: Conquer your fears with courage
